1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Important information and who we are

Welcome to DRIFT Energy Ltd's Privacy and Data Protection Policy ("Privacy Policy").

At DRIFT Energy Ltd ("we", "us", or "our") we are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy and Personal Data in compliance with the United Kingdom General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR"), the Data Protection Act 2018 and all other mandatory laws and regulations of the United Kingdom.

This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, process and keep your data safe. The Privacy Policy will tell you about your privacy rights, how the law protects you, and inform our employees and staff members of all their obligations and protocols when processing data.

The individuals from which we may gather and use data can include:

- Customers
- Suppliers
- Business contacts
- Employees/Staff Members
- Third parties connected to your customers
- Interested Parties, Supporters, Media

and any other people that the organisation has a relationship with or may need to contact.

This Privacy Policy applies to all our employees and staff members and all Personal Data processed at any time by us.

1.2 Who is Your Data Controller

DRIFT Energy Ltd is your Data Controller and responsible for your Personal Data. We are not obliged by the GDPR to appoint a data protection officer and have not voluntarily appointed one at this time. Therefore, any inquiries about your data should either be sent to us on email at info@drift.energy or sent in a letter to 13 Gatekeepers Way, Watton At Stone, Hertford, SG14 3QB, United Kingdom.

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues (www.ico.org.uk). We would, however, appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the ICO so please contact us in the first instance.

1.3 Processing Data on Behalf of a Controller and Processors' responsibility to you

In discharging our responsibilities as a Data Controller we have employees who will deal with your data on our behalf (known as "Processors"). Therefore, the responsibilities described below may be assigned to an individual, or may be taken to apply to the organisation as a whole. The Data Controller and our Processors have the following responsibilities:

- Ensure that all processing of Personal Data is governed by one of the legal bases laid out in the GDPR (see 2.2 below for more information on those bases);
- Ensure that Processors authorised to process Personal Data have committed themselves to confidentiality or are under an appropriate statutory obligation of confidentiality;
- Implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to ensure a level of security appropriate to the risk associated with the processing of Personal Data;
- Obtain the prior specific or general authorisation of the Controller before engaging another Processor;
- Assist the Controller in the fulfilment of the Controller's obligation to respond to requests for exercising the data subject's rights;
- Make available to the Controller all information necessary to demonstrate compliance with the obligations laid down in the GDPR and allow for and contribute to audits, including inspections, conducted by the Controller or another auditor mandated by the Controller;
- Maintain a record of all categories of processing activities carried out on behalf of a Controller;
- Cooperate, on request, with the supervisory authority in the performance of its tasks;
- Ensure that any person acting under the authority of the Processor who has access to Personal Data does not process Personal Data except on instructions from the Controller; and
- Notify the Controller without undue delay after becoming aware of a Personal Data Breach;

2 LEGAL BASIS FOR DATA COLLECTION

2.1 Types of Data / Privacy Policy Scope

“Personal Data” means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of Personal Data about you which we have grouped together below. Not all of the following types of data will necessarily be collected from you but this is the full scope of data that we collect and when we collect it from you:

Profile/Identity Data: This is data relating to your first name, last name, gender, date of birth.

Contact Data: This is data relating to your phone number, addresses, email addresses, phone numbers.

Marketing and Communications Data: This is your preferences in receiving marketing information and other information from us.

Usage and Technical Data: This is information about how our website is used, collected by our analytics provider and only where you have accepted analytics cookies. It comprises the pages you viewed and the order in which you viewed them, approximately how long you spent on them, whether you arrived from a search engine or a link, your approximate location derived from your IP address, and technical information about your device such as browser, operating system, screen size and language. It includes a randomly generated identifier stored in a cookie which distinguishes your visits from those of another visitor without naming you. We treat this as Personal Data because that identifier singles you out, notwithstanding that it contains nothing you have told us. Our Cookie Policy lists every item involved.

We do not collect any Special Categories of Personal Data about you (this includes details about your race or ethnicity, religious or philosophical beliefs, sex life, sexual orientation, political opinions, trade union membership, information about your health, and genetic and biometric data). Nor do we collect any information about criminal convictions and offences.

2.2 The Legal Basis for Collecting That Data

There are a number of justifiable reasons under the GDPR that allow collection and processing of Personal Data. The main avenues we rely on are:

“Consent”: Certain situations allow us to collect your Personal Data, such as when you tick a box that confirms you are happy to receive email newsletters from us, or ‘opt in’ to a service.

“Contractual Obligations”: We may require certain information from you in order to fulfil our contractual obligations and provide you with the promised service.

“Legal Compliance”: We’re required by law to collect and process certain types of data, such as fraudulent activity or other illegal actions.

“Legitimate Interest”: We might need to collect certain information from you to be able to meet our legitimate interests - this covers aspects that can be reasonably expected as part of running our business, that will not have a material impact on your rights, freedom or interests. Examples could be your address, so that we know where to deliver something to, or your name, so that we have a record of who to contact moving forwards.

3 HOW WE USE YOUR PERSONAL DATA

3.1 Our Uses

We will only use your Personal Data when the law allows us to. Set out below is a table containing the different types of Personal Data we collect and the lawful basis for processing that data. Please refer to section 2.2 for more information on the lawful basis listed in the table below.

Examples provided in the table below are indicative in nature and the purposes for which we use your data may be broader than described but we will never process your data without a legal basis for doing so and it is for a related purpose. For further inquiries please contact us.

Activity	Type of data	Legal Justification	Lawful basis for processing data
When a customer signs up and opts-in to marketing communications.	Profile/Identity Data Contact Data Marketing and Communications Data	Consent	We need to process this data so we know who has opted-in to communications and maintain a correct mailing list for marketing and company communications.
When a visitor uses our website and has accepted analytics cookies.	Usage and Technical Data	Consent	We need to process this data to understand which parts of our website are read and which are not, so that we can improve it. We do this only where you have accepted analytics cookies, and you may withdraw that consent at any time using the Cookie settings link in the footer of our website.

3.2 Marketing and Content Updates

You will receive marketing and new content communications from us if you have created an account and chosen to opt into receiving those communications. From time to time we may make suggestions and recommendations to you about goods or services that may be of interest to you.

3.3 Change of Purpose

We will only use your Personal Data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If you wish to get an explanation as to how the processing for the new purpose is compatible with the original purpose, please contact us.

If we need to use your Personal Data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

4 YOUR RIGHTS AND HOW YOU ARE PROTECTED BY US

4.1 How Does DRIFT Energy Ltd Protect Customers' Personal Data?

We are concerned with keeping your data secure and protecting it from inappropriate disclosure. Any Personal Data collected by us is only accessible by a limited number of employees who have special access rights to such systems and are bound by obligations of confidentiality. If and when we use subcontractors to store your data, we will not relinquish control of your Personal Data or expose it to security risks that would not have arisen had the data remained in our possession. However, unfortunately no transmission of data over the internet is guaranteed to be completely secure. It may be possible for third parties not under the control of DRIFT Energy Ltd to intercept or access transmissions or private communications unlawfully. While we strive to protect your Personal Data, we cannot ensure or warrant the security of any Personal Data you transmit to us. Any such transmission is done at your own risk. If you believe that your interaction with us is no longer secure, please contact us.

4.2 Opting Out Of Marketing Promotions

You can ask us to stop sending you marketing messages at any time by We allow customers to opt-out by self serve on the website and by emailing us directly. You can ask us to stop sending you marketing messages at any time by emailing us your request, or opting out on the website directly..

Where you opt out of receiving these marketing messages, we will continue to retain other Personal Data provided to us as a result of interactions with us not related to your marketing preferences.

4.3 How to Request your Data and the Process for Obtaining it

You will not have to pay a fee to access your Personal Data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, if your request is clearly unfounded, we could refuse to comply with your request.

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure you have the right to access your Personal Data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that Personal Data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

5 YOUR DATA AND THIRD PARTIES

5.1 Will We Share Your Data With Third Parties?

We may share non-Personal Data with third parties. We may share your Personal Data with subcontractors or affiliates (subject to confidentiality obligations to use it only for the purposes for which we disclose it to them and pursuant to our instructions).

The third party involved in your use of our website is Google. Google provides the analytics described at 2.1 and 3.1 above, and hosts a film embedded on our careers page. In respect of the analytics, Google acts as our processor, meaning that it handles that data on our instructions. Our Cookie Policy sets out what each of these does and when.

We may also share Personal Data with interested parties in the event that DRIFT Energy Ltd anticipates a change in control or the acquisition of all or part of our business or assets or with interested parties in connection with the licensing of our technology.

If DRIFT Energy Ltd is sold or makes a sale or transfer, we may, in our sole discretion, transfer, sell or assign your Personal Data to a third party as part of or in connection with that transaction. Upon such transfer, the Privacy Policy of the acquiring entity may govern the further use of your Personal Data. In all other situations your data will still remain protected in accordance with this Privacy Policy (as amended from time to time).

We may share your Personal Data at any time if required for legal reasons or in order to enforce our terms or this Privacy Policy.

5.2 Third-Party Links

This Site may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for their privacy statements. When you leave our Site, we encourage you to read the privacy policy of every website you visit.

6 HOW LONG WILL WE RETAIN YOUR DATA FOR?

We will only retain your Personal Data for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for. We may retain your Personal Data for a longer period than usual in the event of a complaint or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation in respect to our relationship with you.

In respect of the Usage and Technical Data described at 2.1, the data held by our analytics provider about an individual visit is retained for no longer than 14 months, after which it is deleted automatically. The cookies that support it expire two years after your last visit and you may delete them sooner at any time.

7 AGE LIMIT FOR OUR USERS

You must not use DRIFT Energy Ltd unless you are aged 16 or older. If you are under 16 and you access DRIFT Energy Ltd by lying about your age, you must immediately stop using DRIFT Energy Ltd.

8 INTERNATIONAL TRANSFER OF DATA

Your information may be stored and processed in the US or other countries or jurisdictions outside the US where DRIFT Energy Ltd has facilities. We are currently storing data in the EU and so, by using DRIFT Energy Ltd, you are permitting and consenting to the transfer of information, including Personal Data, outside of the US.

In respect of the Usage and Technical Data described at 2.1, that analytics service is provided to us by Google Ireland Limited and the data may be processed by Google LLC in the United States and in other countries in which Google operates. Where data is transferred outside the United Kingdom we rely on the safeguards required by UK data protection law; in Google's case these are the Standard Contractual Clauses together with the UK International Data Transfer Addendum, and Google LLC's certification under the UK Extension to the EU-US Data Privacy Framework. You may ask us for further detail about the safeguards applying to a particular transfer by emailing info@drift.energy. If you would prefer that no data about your visit leaves the United Kingdom, you may decline analytics cookies.

9 NOTIFICATION OF CHANGES AND ACCEPTANCE OF POLICY

We keep our Privacy Policy under review and will place any updates on this webpage. This version is dated 1 September 2026. By using DRIFT Energy Ltd, you consent to the collection and use of data by us as set out in this Privacy Policy. Continued access or use of DRIFT Energy Ltd will constitute your express acceptance of any modifications to this Privacy Policy.

10 INTERPRETATION

All uses of the word "including" mean "including but not limited to" and the enumerated examples are not intended to in any way limit the term which they serve to illustrate. Any email addresses set out in this policy may be used solely for the purpose for which they are stated to be provided, and any unrelated correspondence will be ignored. Unless otherwise required by law, we reserve the right to not respond to emails, even if they relate to a legitimate subject matter for which we have provided an email address. As a matter of common sense, you are more likely to get a reply if your request or question is polite, reasonable and there is no relatively obvious other way to deal with or answer your concern or question (e.g. FAQs, other areas of our website etc.).

Our staff are not authorised to contract on behalf of DRIFT Energy Ltd, waive rights or make representations (whether contractual or otherwise). If anything contained in an email from a DRIFT Energy Ltd address contradicts anything in this policy, our terms or any official public announcement on our website, or is inconsistent with or amounts to a waiver of any DRIFT Energy Ltd rights, the email content will be read down to grant precedence to the latter. The only exception to this is genuine correspondence expressed to be from the DRIFT Energy Ltd legal department.
